Rep. Englebright Making Swing Around District Before Special Session

Congressman Harry L. Englebright was in Placerville from Nevada City, on the first leg of a swing through the southern part of his widespread district, preparatory to returning to Washington for the special session of Congress opening November 15.

"The special session has caught me a little off guard," he confessed, "for I had made my schedule of between-term plans on returning from Washington and hadn't counted on returning to the capital until January.

"Now we are returning six weeks earlier, and I'm making the best of a hastily revised program which will at least give me the opportunity to contact all parts of the district."

Mr. Englebright said he is particularly interested in keeping in touch with the various projects for construction in the district to the end that he may know to his own satisfaction that all building for which appropriation has been made, is going ahead on schedule.

"Exclusive of co-operative projects in which communities participate with the government, we have obtained for this Second California Congressional district a total of $17,000,000 in federal funds this past year," he declared.

"Of course, this includes our part of the Central Valley project and, in addition to that, road building, postoffice building and other developments.

Cattle Branding To Be Reviewed

Stockmen To Hear State Officer On Amendments Recently Effective

Recent amendments to the Agricultural Code relative to the branding of cattle will be reviewed at the business meeting of the Amador-El Dorado Livestock Association in its semi-annual meeting at Ione on November 13.

The speaker will be E. Clyde Harris, supervisor of the state's livestock identification service.

The topic is one of general interest to stockmen and it is hoped that as many as possible will make a special effort to hear Mr. Harris' remarks.

Amendments to the code, effective August 27, last provide that:

"It is unlawful to brand any cattle with a brand unless such brand is recorded with the department and not forfeited under the provisions of this article. Possession or ownership of cattle with an unrecorded brand is prima facie evidence that the person in possession of, or the ownership of said cattle, has branded said cattle with said brand; and,

"Two dollars shall be paid the director for the recordation of any brand or brand mark; for the right to continue the use of said brand or of said brand and mark, the owner thereof shall, before January 1 of each year after its recordation transmit to the director the sum of one and one-half dollars. Failure to make such payment forfeits the right to use said brand or brand and mark. When forfeited, said brand or brand and mark shall not be recorded by any other person within one year thereafter. Any person or persons using an unrecorded brand to brand cattle shall, in addition to the regular fee of two dollars, pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars."

FIRST AID STUDY OPENS MONDAY

Red Cross Chapter To Have Enrollment Booth At Coming County Fair

The second in a series of courses in first aid instruction under the auspices of El Dorado County Chapter of the Red Cross will begin in Placerville on Monday evening dating from November 1 at the parlors of the Federated Church by E. W. Zueger, accredited Red Cross first aid instructor.

Enrollment is open to all parties interested.

The first in the series of first aid schools was concluded recently at Pollock Pines and upon the completion of the course now about to be opened, a third course is being planned to be offered in the Shingle Springs district.

According to M. T. Kelly, chairman of the chapter, effort will be made this year to depart from the practice of a county-wide house to house canvass in the annual Roll Call. The chapter will have a booth at the county fair and it is hoped that all members and their friends will take advantage of this opportunity to enroll for another year.

Mr. Kelly has been advised of three nation-wide radio broadcasts planned in support of the roll call. The first of these will be November 4 at 3:45 o'clock on the Mutual network; the second on November 7 at 7:30 p. m. on the NBC Red network; and the third on November 11 at 7:30 o'clock on the CBS chain.

SECURITIES ACT TRIAL SET FOR NOV. 15 IN ARRAIGNMENT

J. A. Rosenberger, indicted by the Grand Jury on a charge of violating the state corporate securities act in an alleged stock transaction with Leo and Kathleen Flynn of Georgetown, entered a plea of not guilty in Superior Court Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Thompson set the matter for hearing on November 15 and admitted the defendant to bail in the amount of $1,000.

A similar charge against J. J. Murphy was dismissed.

A venire of thirty-five was drawn and is being summoned for the trial.

A ruling by the Third District Appellate Court at Sacramento on Friday denied Rosenberger's petition for a writ of habeas corpus and ordered him remanded to the custody of the county sheriff.

Denial of the Rosenberger petition for a writ of habeas corpus sustains a ruling made by Judge George H. Thompson, of the El Dorado County Superior Court, in denying a defense motion for dismissal of the charges against Rosenberger.

Mrs. John Barrett is here from Orleans, Trinity County, visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Barnard. Mrs. Barrett returned here with Mr. and Mrs. Barnard after the latter's visit with Rev. and Mrs. Barrett at the Mission of the Holy Spirit, at Orleans.

DON'T RIDE WITH HIM

A Program For Winter

The coming of a new season brings a new thrill. The hot, lazy days of the summer are past and now you can "button up your overcoat" and step along with vigor. Five months of glorious possibilities await your disposal. In order to have any enterprise satisfactory at the end result, it is necessary to devise a plan at the beginning. If you build a house, make a dress or embark upon a trip you should start with a design, else the kitchen may be crowded out, the sleeves may not harmonize with the skirt or you may pass by some place you particularly wanted to see. The same idea holds true as to the winter which has been granted you. How will you spend it; what will you get out of it? A budget for winter is the answer.

Our working hours are more or less definite. We must check off the required time for them. A ridiculously large portion of our time will be spent in personal upkeep; sleep, eating and grooming. There remains a quota of hours for leisure, recreation, and the special things we like to do—real life for which the rest is but a necessary foundation.

In these hours must come our spiritual, intellectual, emotional and physical activities. It is important for us to decide how much time each week we will give to church, clubs, movies, reading, outdoor exercise, social life and play.

Don't forget play. The conscientious housewife is prone to keep her nose eternally to the grindstone and become a "mudhen" instead of a vibrant personality. Try the butterfly role for a change and see how much brighter and happier life will become. A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of housewives.

For your satisfaction, when apple blossom comes again, sit down with your pencil and paper and map out what radio programs you will listen to this winter, what parties you will have, what clubs to attend, and what philanthropies and church work you will engage in. The hit and miss life misses much.

Fashions

This is the day of the zipper. Beginning on galoshes, this substitute for buttons has come to move in high society. It holds forth on hats, gloves, coats and wherever a secure closing is desired.

The handbag has been growing a great deal larger until now it is quite an immense affair. Steeples hats are the latest fad. Skirt lengths for daytime are a bit longer. For evening, ankle and floor lengths prevail. A new dignity has been allocated to the body and this season's silhouette follows feminine lines. Clothes are form-fitting, and the form must be slender to be stylish. Corsets help to make the figure high bodomed, wasp waisted and flat as to abdomen. Velvet, lace, gold and fur, costly or inexpensive, make milady glamorous.

Devastating Parents

There are three types of parents who harm their children by their treatment of them. 1. The over-solicitous parent who treats his children like a houseplant and will not let them do anything for themselves. The children never have a chance to learn self-reliance nor develop independence. This type of parent is usually a mother.

2. The domineering parent, the Spartan father, the rigid parent who begets fear in his home.

3. The neurotic parent who molly-coddles the child today and is oversteern tomorrow. His children never feel security nor know what to expect next. There is no continuity nor serenity in their lives and they cannot develop regular habits.

Food Ideas

Add a cup of chopped bananas or apples to your pancake, waffle or muffin batter.

Escalop celery or cabbage with cheese.

Add chopped nuts or peanut butter to mashed sweet potatoes, mix fluffy with hot cream or rich milk, add a chunk of butter and serve at once or brown on top of a hot oven.

Cut salt pork in small pieces about the size of your fingertip, soak ten minutes to remove the excess salt, and brown in a fry pan, remove the browned pieces and make a milk gravy with the drippings, return the browned pork to the gravy and serve hot with toast or potatoes.

Add dry mustard, paprika and a little sugar to inexpensive, less tasty meats and cook long and slowly, and you will have delectable viands.

In recipes calling for soup stock, bullion cubes may be used to produce the desired quantity of stock. In many markets, half turkey may be purchased. This is economy for the small family.

Cauliflower is more delicately flavored if cooked uncovered. Dip cooked cauliflower in egg and cracker crumbs and brown in hot fat.

For Your Yarn

If your ball of yarn is inclined to slip off your lap and roll away or get tangled, try keeping it in a box, as you knit. Make a hole in a small box, slip the yarn through the hole and fasten the box shut with string, gummed paper or adhesive strip. You can knit out the yarn as needed and it will not get into a snarl. An empty ice-cream container will also serve the purpose.

The Cheery Kitchen

The housewife spends so many hours in the kitchen, it is a pity that this room should be dark and dingy. A little effort, plus a little expense will transform the dismal kitchen into a cheery one. First gladden the color of the walls. Tear off that old, dark toned paper and give it a lining of some pleasing shade. If the walls have never been papered, so much the better. Paint them with two coats of white paint and one of white enamel, or a delicate blue—never a dull gray or dark brown.

Paint the kitchen furniture white enamel, put a new oilcloth or enamel top on the kitchen table. Hang bright gingham curtains at the windows. Install a new shelf or cupboard to take care of extra belongings which you have never had room for. For decoration set out a few gay bowls or plates. While you have the paint going, do not forget to use it on the kitchen stool and wastebasket.

If the kitchen is dark, cut a new window where you can look out on some pleasant view. Have a ledge inside on which may sit a blooming plant, and a ledge outside where you can scatter crumbs for the birds in the winter. If it should happen that the view from that window is not inviting, set a tree or shrub not far from the window, to hide the ugliness and give your eyes something pleasant to focus on, or train a vine on a lattice set out a bit from the window.

Bath Sit-Downers

As for the bath of the future, we "will take it sitting down," so plumbers tell us. They are offering for sale bath tub seats, some at the sides and some at the end of bath tubs. Seats for the shower bath are also being made, with the control valves so placed that they may be operated as you sit.

Hair Rinse

A little vinegar or lemon juice in the rinse water after a shampoo helps to cut the soap and leaves the hair nice and glossy. If the hair is gray, it may have an unattractive yellowish look after a shampoo; but the vinegar or lemon rinse will prevent the yellowing, which is caused by soap suds left on the hair.

Windsor, "Happily Wed," Wants To Be Active

PARIS, (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, proclaiming himself "a very happily married man," told the Anglo-American Press Club at a luncheon today that he and the Duchess had no intention of leading an idle life and hoped to make some contribution towards solving the world's present grave problems.

The speech emphasized the close partnership of the Duke and Duchess. Throughout it was "we" and not "I". It was the Duke's first formal speech on his personal affairs since the abdication radio address.

will consist of two racks sixteen feet wide and eighty-two feet long, will be entries of lady apples, persimmons and pomegranates, in addition to pears, apples, peaches and plums.

The home economics display, for which M. E. Raber is chairman, is rapidly taking form through the assistance of group leaders and Miss Irene Anderson, of the home economics department at the high school.

The work of this department will be a feature of the fair.

Through the co-operation of a committee of women of the Federated church, with Mrs. Charles Schaeppi as chairman, the nucleus of an excellent Placerville Food Show has been obtained, Mr. Raber declared. There are some entries coming in late in this department, he stated.

The County Food Show is being developed through the women of the various Farm Centers and Granges, Mr. Raber said.

In this connection, it is pointed out that Secretary-Manager Anderson will be at Georgetown on Friday to contact residents of the North Side concerning their exhibits at the fair.

The fair program is complete and will follow the general outline published several weeks ago. The carnival company will arrive in Placerville in time to open Thursday evening of next week, although the fair will not open until Friday.

Features of the carnival, in addition to the usual shows and games, will be an out-door aerial act, recently featured on the state fair circuit.

Arnold N. Weber, in charge of lumbering exhibits, reports that in addition to displays by the companies operating in pine timber, there will be a special cedar products display.

Decorations of the business district in Placerville in preparation for the fair was begun Wednesday under the supervision of City Marshall James Morton.

Work also is under way on conveniences at the fair grounds, which are designed so that they may become a permanent installation but may be moved to any site in the event their present location is not satisfactory.

Floodlighting, intended to become a part of a permanent installation, is under way and the field has been cleared for parking of cars of fair visitors.

Special state and city police will direct traffic to the parking area, which will be reached off Bee Street via Acacia Avenue. No automobiles except those of exhibitors displaying livestock or poultry will be allowed in the race track area.

FRESNO TOT BURNED TO DEATH AS FIRE HITS TRAILER HOME

FRESNO (UP)—A fire in the trailer home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Long of Burrell, resulted in the death today of three-year-old Doris Long and inflicted severe burns on her two infant brothers, Weston, 2, and Sherman, 17 months.

According to authorities, the fire occurred when Mr. and Mrs. Long were working in the cotton fields late yesterday. The children were apparently playing with matches and were unable to escape from the resulting blaze, they said.

BOYD, DESPERADO, FLEES MEXICO JAIL, ELUDES SOLDIER GUARD

TIJUANA, Baja, Cal. (UP)—William E. Boyd, 28, American desperado, who faced a sentence on Mexico's dread penal colony on desolate Tres Marias Island, today was the quarry of a widespread international manhunt.

The American gunman, also wanted in the United States, fled from the military hospital here after dropping fifteen feet to the ground from the second-story window of a washroom. A Mexican soldier, who stood guard outside the washroom door, was not aware of Boyd's escape for sometime.

It was believed the prisoner had outside help in his prison break, which was said to duplicate an escape he made from the Santa Ana, California, jail sometime ago.

OAKLAND SURGEON ENDS OWN LIFE WITH BUTCHER KNIFE

OAKLAND, (UP)—Dr. Gordon McLellan, 49, committed suicide today by slashing his throat with a butcher knife, four hours before he was to go on trial on a charge of performing an illegal operation, police reported.

His wife, Anabel, co-defendant with her husband, tried to save his life by applying forceps and clamps, but he was dead when an ambulance crew arrived.

McLellan's last acts were to make a cup of coffee for his wife, take it to her in her bed upstairs, and then write a farewell note to her.

She became alarmed when she called down to him, got no response, but heard him coughing. She ran downstairs and found him lying unconscious on the floor. She applied first aid, then telephoned police.

Tom Baxter, Skaggs Springs, Sonoma County, recently purchased three Berino-Rambouillet rams from the University Farm, Davis.

The Tomales Creamery will open a cheese factory at Anderson, Shasta Co., before the end of the year.

This & That

By The Tattletale

European travelers bring back noteworthy stories—here are two regarding other nations as seen through the eyes of a dictator-ridden people. They are true stories and reflect what a controlled press can do to the minds of a people.

A certain university professor spent his last summer's vacation in France. Occasionally, he would motor across the border stopping at Genoa. His party engaged in conversation with some bystanders who expressed surprise upon learning they were from France and that they were well fed! "Are there any rats left in France?" they asked. "Rats? Of course! There are too many of them." "But we understood they were all eaten up. Our papers say there are bread riots in Paris and the people are living on rats." "You must have been reading a paper of 1871." "No, it is yesterday's paper, here, look!" And the professor read in that day's paper, just that story.

Another conversation in Italy brought out the fact that the professor lived in the United States. "You look pretty husky but how many bodyguards do you keep?" asked a bystander. "None at all, of course. Why should I?" "But we read in the papers that everybody in America who can afford it always goes with from one to ten body guards, and that the people are shooting each other down in the streets."

We may have some "yellow Journalism" in this country but we don't have to support it—those that do perhaps like to be fooled!

We have been reading, lately, all the material we could find on "Packaged Houses" and we have come to the conclusion that here may be the answer to America's housing problem. The idea of industrially produced dwellings is as old as the hills, nearly, for Leonardo Da Vinci's notebook contains plans for fabricating a house in a shop and then transporting it to a site. Thos. A. Edison also worked on a scheme to pour a concrete house in one operation, and in 1922, two inventors began producing large transportable room-cubes with thin concrete walls which could be fitted together to form buildings two or three stories high—most of these houses are still in use. Last year the fabricated housing industry built some 150,000 new family dwelling units and many more are planned for this year. As yet the work is still in the experimental stage—for one thing they cost too much—mass production has yet to be achieved, and many improvements need to be made. And by the way, considerable resistance is to be expected from many sides.

The assistant coach at St. Mary's Eddie Erdelatz, after scouting a College of Pacific game, stated that Martinovich was the "best fullback on the Pacific Coast. While we haven't seen "Iron Mike" in action this year, we intend to take the day off Saturday and see the St. Mary's-Pacific game. We hope Erdelatz is right!

The old baseball park at Colusa has been purchased by the forty-fourth agricultural district and will be converted into a fair grounds.

CCC HALLOWEEN BALL AT LAKE VALLEY ON SATURDAY

Everything is in readiness for the Second Annual Lake Valley-CCC Halloween costume party to be held Saturday evening at the Lake Valley School, according to an announcement.

The festival is staged to show the appreciation of the Lake Valley Citizens Community Club which is sponsoring the event.

The festival is staged to show the appreciation of the Lake Valley citizens to the 37 CCC enrollees, stationed at Camp Snowline Spike Camp there, for their numerous contributions to the community welfare, stated Miss Dunlay.

Special novelty musical numbers by the Snowline Serenaders, bird imitations by Raymond Perez of the Spike camp, modern and old-time dancing, and refreshments are of the program planned.

Assisting Miss Dunlay in preparing refreshments are Mrs. Leland Hill and Mrs. Archie Butler of Bay View and Mrs. B. C. Cello of Meyers. Miss Helen Hardy, teacher of the Lake Valley school, has charge of decorations while Mrs. Raleigh Bryan of Meyers has secured the Snowline Serenaders, composed of Wilter Hillmer, piano; Herbert Belcher and Joe Duenes, guitars, and George Hoopes, harmonica, to provide the toe-tickling dance tunes.

Plans are being made for about 150 guests.

FIVE ADMITTED TO BAIL IN SACRAMENTO LABOR CLASH

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Four committee for industrial organization pickets and one American Federation of Labor organizer were free under bail today after their arrest on charges of disturbing the peace in a fight in which seven persons were injured as the F. H. Woolworth and Son Seed Co. reopened its warehouse here yesterday.

The warehouse had been closed by a jurisdictional dispute between the longshoremen and warehousemen (C. I. O.) and the teamsters (A. F. of L.) both of whom claim to represent inland warehousemen.

The plant was reopened after A. F. of L. sources announced a resumption of work.

1937 Red Cross Poster

THE Red Cross annual roll call poster with its appeal for members is the work of Walter W. Seaton, noted New York and California artist. Seaton's portraits of radio and movie stars, his murals and posters have won him fame throughout the nation. The current poster is the second he has painted for the Red Cross, thus joining a long list of distinguished artists who since the World War years have illustrated the spirit of the Red Cross in the call for memberships. Red Cross roll call begins Armistice Day and ends Thanksgiving Day.

Native Daughters Gain Two New Members

Marguerite Parlor No. 12, N. D. G. W., held a regular meeting with a good attendance on Wednesday evening of last week. This followed a delicious potluck supper served at 6:30 o'clock. An interesting program also was given. The business meeting had as a special feature the impressive ceremony of initiation in which two new members, Mrs. Elsie Burrow and Mrs. Mildred Spencer became members of the order.

DEAD BROUGHT DOWN FROM PEAK—This tragic scene shows pack mules and horses about to be loaded with bodies of the air crash victims on Chalk Peak in the Uinta Mountains in Utah, to be taken out of the rocky wilderness to Evanston, Wyo. Bodies are wrapped in oilskins in foreground. Deep snow, treacherous trails, and the menace of landslides hampered the rescue parties. Sorrowing relatives later claimed the bodies, brought part of the way by trucks.

COMMUNITY HALL PROJECT AT MISSOURI FLAT READY FOR ROOF

The community hall at Missouri Flat, which is being erected on the Missouri Flat school grounds as a community project, is ready for roofing, according to Roy Marks, chairman of the committee in charge.

The community plans that the structure will be entirely roofed before the fall rains set in, and hopes to make some material progress on completing the interior during the winter months.

Mr. Marks also reports that the community will complete the installation of $1,000 worth of twenty-inch pipe this week, covering over the large ditch which borders the school grounds.

"And what's more," he added, "we are doing all of this on a pay-as-you-go basis and don't intend to have any debts hanging over our heads when we are through."

FINK FAMILY REUNION AT OLD HOME FIRST IN 24 YEARS

We learn from Pleasant Valley that there are great doings at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fink at this time, the occasion being a reunion of Mr. Fink with his sisters, Lizzie Ray and Laura Luttrell, who are all together at the old home place for the first time in 24 years.

They are not only having the pleasure of a reunion among themselves, but they are visiting the old-time friends in Pleasant Valley whom they have not seen for many years.

Mrs. Ray is here with her daughter, from Victoria, British Columbia, and Mrs. Luttrell and her husband are here from Los Angeles.

SEAT SALE OPENS FOR SENIOR PLAY ON NOV. 10

Tickets for the high school senior play, "New Fires," scheduled for Wednesday evening, November 10, at 8 o'clock, are now on sale. They may be obtained at Fox Brothers or from any member of the senior class.

The school orchestra, under the direction of Charles W. Ball, is preparing special numbers for a concert to be given before the play, and will provide music between the acts.

"New Fires" is a story of modern life and very subtly teaches a lesson of better living. The play brings in many experiences that have actually happened to people—mistakes they have made. There is a cast of fifteen, all really alive people and of different temperaments.

Pleasing humor, witty remarks, interesting plot, real characters, a picture of everyday life is giving the cast enjoyment and enthusiasm as it works on the play. The action, snap, and vigor which the cast is putting into the play will keep the audience "at attention" from the first curtain to the end—there will not be a dull moment in it.

CONGRESSMAN IN COUNTY VISIT

of travel for the central part of the state and I am glad to see that at least as far as the federal government is concerned you are getting it near completion.

"The major project now under way at the Echo summit and the balance of that project involving the improvement of the lower end of Meyers Grade will give a standard highway through the forest to Lake Valley. There will be one or two small sections requiring improvement and no doubt we will get to those in due time."

Congressman Englebright reported on his efforts in behalf of a new post office building for Placerville, for which sites are now being considered by the treasury department.

The congressman had been scheduled to be one of the principal speakers at the annual meeting of the state chamber of commerce, now in session at Los Angeles, but found it necessary to cancel this appointment so that he might make a tour of the district before returning to Washington for the special session.

"I'm sorry," he answered questioners, "but Mrs. Englebright couldn't come with me. She is at home packing."

Extreme Cruelty Cited As Divorce Grounds

The complaint, prepared by Attorney C. W. Pearson, states the couple wed at Fresno, December 21, 1927, and separated October 9, last. Papers state there is one minor child of the union and lists no community property.

The prayer is for a decree of divorce.
